Title: Honorary Degrees, Commencement Speaker

The University annually considers nominations for Honorary Degree recipients and a Commencement Speaker. This University Operating Procedure sets forth the process and criteria applicable to the selection process.

This Operating Procedure applies to all members of the University community, including, without limitation, individuals who are faculty, staff, students, and affiliates of the University.

None

To be eligible for consideration for the award of an Honorary Degree, a nominee must be recognized as accomplished in at least one of three areas:

- Outstanding achievement or service for the benefit of the University of Vermont.
- Outstanding achievement or service for the benefit of the State of Vermont.
- Outstanding achievement or service in the nation or the world.

Of particular importance is to identify Honorary Degree candidates and a Commencement Speaker who have achieved distinction in endeavors aligned with institutional goals and strategic priorities.

Additional considerations include:

- Sustained and dedicated commitment to public life and service
- Significant contributions to the advancement of knowledge
- Significant contribution to the University's ability to achieve its mission

Honorary degrees may not be given to current faculty, staff, members of the Board of Trustees, or current holders of political office. Exceptions may be made at the discretion of the President.

The authority to revoke a previously awarded honorary degree shall be on the recommendation of the President, made to and approved by, the Board of Trustees. The recommendation shall be based on evidence and guided by the principle of fairness and shall only be made after the President has ascertained the relevant facts related to the case under consideration. An honorary degree may be revoked if, in the judgment of the President and the Board of Trustees, the recipient of the degree has engaged in conduct that: 1) is inconsistent with the mission of the University of Vermont; 2) undermines the accomplishments that were cited as the basis for awarding the honorary degree; 3) is injurious to the reputation of the University; or 4) is subject to official sanction, such as a fine or a reprimand, by an adjudicating body, professional association or other organization.
