

Gregory Sanford

Vermont State Archivist (retired)

Sam panel--Feb. 8th

There are so many ways to remember, to honor the life of a man who was so central to Sam's archival influences—he saw the value of the papers even though Aiken had deposited over 750 feet of the papers and were also used to refine findings.

This is a breathless rush through my allotted time; this truly remains a legacy—who is doing the work of history; and so on—I look forward to your discussion.
