IV. Reports

- A. PhD in Social-Emotional and Behavioral Health and Inclusive Education, CESS – Stephen Everse and Elizabeth Hunt served as the review subcommittee and recommend the approval of the proposed new PhD in Social-Emotional Behavioral Health and Inclusive Education (SHIE). The proposal is from the Graduate College in conjunction with the Department of Education in the College of Education and Social Services (CESS). If approved, the SHIE would begin in Fall 2023. Graduates of this program will be tenure-track faculty in higher education or hold positions of leadership in state and local governments. They will be trained in collaborative interdisciplinary approaches and community-engaged research integrating families, schools, and communities. The creation of the PhD in SHIE aligns with the CESS strategic plan for
