

-
-
- Remember who your audience is. The Student Research Conference is open to the public, therefore your audience will range from a complete novice to an expert in your field. Keep this in mind at every step in the process.
 - The first and most crucial step is deciding the best way to consolidate information for your presentation. Many SRC projects are semesters or years in the mak

- Select fonts that are clear and easy to read.

