

The UVM Staff Council serves as an advocate for staff by seeking out and responding to their ideas and concerns, representing them to the University administration, and keeping staff informed of University initiatives. Staff Council works to create a cohesive community, make a positive impact on staff culture, and promote the betterment of all.

Staff Council was formed in 1971 during the administration of President Edward C. Andrews. Designated the "Non-Academic Employee's Council," it was created to serve in an advisory capacity to the President on matters affecting the University's non-faculty employees. Prior to this time, there was no formal organization representing staff interests at the University. Staff Council went through a major restructuring in 2006 during the administration of President Daniel M. Fogel to fulfill a greater role in 58 (S)22 (t)16 (a)20 (f)
